Ontario Hospital Services Commission

Statistical Supplement to 1968 Annual Report

Ontario Hospital Services Commission

FOREWORD

This Statistical Supplement to the 1968 Annual Report of the Ontario Hospital Services Commission provides detailed information about each hospital and the cost of providing necessary services to insured and uninsured patients.

Each hospital is obliged under the terms of the Federal-Provincial agreement to complete an Annual Return which is the source for much of the data shown in this Supplement. An exception is morbidity data which have been obtained from the admission-discharge forms processed by the Commission in 1968. In order to interpret each table correctly reference should be made to the text and any footnotes appearing at the end of each table. Otherwise the information contained in the tables may be misinterpreted or not fully understood.

The combined efforts of the hospitals and the Commission staff which were required to produce this Supplement are greatly appreciated. Particular acknowledgement is due to the Statistical Research and Hospital Budgets Divisions.

HOSPITAL HIGHLIGHTS—1968

A. FACILITIES AND SERVICES

The Statistical Supplement to the 1968 Annual Report of the Ontario Hospital Services Commission provides a detailed description of the utilization and operation of hospital and related facilities in the province together with the resultant costs under the Plan. The main source of information is the Annual Return submitted to the Commission by all hospitals. The small lettered tables A to L on the next few pages of this text briefly summarize the more important features of the detailed, individual hospital tables which follow later in the Supplement. There are 22 of these hospital tables. Public hospitals are listed in Tables 1 to 5, 9, and 17 to 22 in descending order according to bed size within each group classification. Data concerning a particular public hospital can be found by reference to the alphabetical index on pages 135 to 139. Instructions on how to use the index appear on page 134.

Listed separately, with statistical data only, are private hospitals (Tables 10 and 11), Federal hospitals (Table 12), and nursing homes temporarily approved for chronic care (Table 13).

The only statistical data not derived from the Annual Returns submitted to the Ontario Hospital Services Commission are the morbidity data shown on Tables 14 to 16. The diagnoses shown are of all those patients who left hospital either late in 1967 or in 1968, and whose hospital admission-discharge forms were processed and tabulated in 1968.

An innovation this year, on Table 1, is a column showing the turnover interval for each hospital. The figure of turnover interval is the average length of time which elapses between the discharge of one patient and the admission of the next. In comparing the values shown for turnover interval, full account must be taken of the different types of hospital and of the mix of patients (active, convalescent, chronic, etc.) within a hospital. As in so many fields, comparisons can only be made on a meaningful basis between similar hospitals.

In using the Tables it should be noted that the divisor for Table 9 is based on adult and child plus one quarter newborn days, but the divisor for Tables 19 and 20 is based on adult and child days only. The table showing the percentage distribution of paid hours of work has been deleted this year, and consequently the table numbers do not correspond to the previous year in many instances.

Data for tuberculosis sanatoria, Ontario Hospitals for the mentally-ill, or private hospitals for the mentally-ill or retarded are not shown in this Supplement. In Table 12, all data concerning domiciliary and long-term mental care in Federal Hospitals have been deleted wherever possible.

Particular attention is drawn to the indicator tables which have been provided this year for certain selected indicators of hospital performance. It is hoped that use of these tables will assist administrators and others in assessing the performance of their hospital in relation to its peer group. A fuller explanation of how to use these indicators is provided on page xxiii.

Hospital Accommodation in Ontario

Table A shows that the total beds available at the end of 1968 in all hospitals under the Plan increased to 48,356, a gain of 2.6 percent over 1967.

As seen in the above table there was an overall increase of 2.8 percent in beds for all levels of care in public and private hospitals in 1968. This was partly the result of the opening of a new hospital in Willowdale, North York General; the establishment of the London Health Association, (Rheumatic and Arthritic Disease Unit); and the opening in Kingston of Ongwanada Sanatorium (Chronic Patients Unit). By level of care the largest increase occurred in psychiatric beds (29.1 percent) which resulted from new or additional beds being added in eleven public hospitals. Footnote 15 to Table 1 on page 10 lists those hospitals that completed building or renovation programmes in 1968 involving 10 or more beds.

The opening of ten new units for the chronically-ill in public hospitals resulted in an overall 4.4 percent increase in chronic care beds. This increase was partially offset by the withdrawal of approval for 71 beds in temporarily approved nursing homes. A further loss of 37 beds resulted from the closing of Emerald Nursing Home, Scarborough; Bel-Air Nursing Home, Toronto; and Dunhaven Nursing Home, Toronto.

The number of beds per 1,000 eligible population shows a 0.1 increase for each of psychiatric and chronic care, with a 0.1 decrease for convalescent care. With active beds remaining constant the end result was an increase of 0.1 to 6.5 beds per 1,000 eligible population for all levels of care in public and private hospitals at the end of 1968.

Volume of Hospital Care

In keeping with past trends, adult and child utilization in all public and private hospitals continued to increase as can be seen from Tables B, C and E. Table D, depicting newborn data, is the exception.

In Table B, Part I, patients under care increased at all levels of care in public and private hospitals but at a much slower rate for psychiatric treatment than in the previous year. A corresponding increase can be seen in days of care. It should be noted however that the increase in psychiatric patients and days in 1967 was exceptional due to the effects of the opening of Clarke Institute of Psychiatry and The Donwood Foundation. Patients under care in Federal hospitals continue to decrease in number.

Part II of Table B shows an increase in percentage of beds occupied for all but chronic care which decreased 3.8 percent from the previous year. Admissions per 1,000 eligible population increased by 2 to 151 in active treatment hospitals but remained constant for all others. Average length of stay for each level of care remained constant or changed only slightly except for chronic care where it was reduced by 6.9 days in 1968 from the previous year.

<sup>1</sup> Eligible population is defined to be the total provincial population (7,306,000) less armed forces personnel, members of the R.C.M.P. and inmates of Federal penal institutions (39,000). Population figures are quoted as of June 1 and based on 1968 Census data and Dominion Bureau of Statistics' estimates.

Table C indicates that days of care per 1,000 eligible population decreased in Federal hospitals and also at the chronic level in public and private hospitals. The total for all hospitals shows a percentage increase of 0.3 days for all levels of care.

In Table D it can be seen that the total number of newborn under care continued to decline in 1968 but at a slower rate. This downward trend, which started in 1960, has persisted in active hospitals and Federal nursing stations but for the past three years private hospitals have shown an upward trend. The newborn days of care also decreased in 1968 in all but private hospitals where a moderate increase matched the increase in newborn under care. While average length of stay remained constant for newborn in public hospitals it decreased by 3.0 percent in private hospitals and 4.0 percent in Federal nursing stations.

Table E shows a distribution of the total days of care provided in public general hospitals by four major classifications, each of which shows an increase in 1968 over the previous year except paediatrics where a 0.7 percent decrease occurred. Psychiatric beds added in eleven public hospitals during the year resulted in a 26.0 percent increase in psychiatric days. The 2.7 percent increase in obstetrical days seems odd after noting a 1.3 percent decrease in newborn days of care (Table D). The explanation for this apparent anomaly is that the average length of stay of obstetric patients has increased from 6.0 days in 1967 to 6.1 days in 1968 (see Table F), an increase of 1.7 percent. This would seem to suggest that in some instances patients are being admitted earlier to hospital as there has been no corresponding increase in the length of stay of newborn.

The morbidity statistics in Tables 14, 15 and 16 are listed according to the Canadian List of 98 primary diagnoses. The diagnoses indicated on all active treatment and convalescent admission-discharge forms processed by the Commission during 1968 are shown in Tables F and 14. The morbidity information included in Table 15 refers to patients in hospitals and units for the chronically-ill; data are grouped by broad diagnostic category. Table 16 shows the leading causes of death in all hospitals.

Examination of Table 14 indicates that the ten most common conditions which required care in active and convalescent hospitals are: maternal deliveries (127,500), hypertrophy of tonsils and adenoids (82,501), all fractures (49,645), arteriosclerotic and degenerative heart disease (46,050), all malignant neoplasms (40,173), pneumonia (31,538), hernia of abdominal cavity (29,714), diseases of gall-bladder and pancreas (29,371), all benign neoplasms (29,001) and symptoms, senility and ill-defined conditions (27,832). Fractures of femur had the longest average length of stay (43.2 days). The shortest average length of stay was for hypertrophy of tonsils and adenoids (2.0 days) and for diseases of the teeth and supporting structures (2.2 days).

Table 15 indicates the five leading broad diagnostic categories of morbidity in patients separated from chronic hospitals and a breakdown of the most significant conditions within each of these groups. The three most common of these conditions were: vascular lesions affecting the central nervous system (2,233), all malignant neoplasms (1,666) and arteriosclerotic and degenerative heart disease (1,265). The longest average length of stay was for poliomyelitis and encephalitis (6 cases with an average stay of 1,593.3 days), followed by certain diseases of early infancy (2 cases with an average stay of 1,308.0 days) and disorders of character, behaviour and intelligence (103 cases with an average stay of 592.1 days).

Table 16 lists the leading causes of deaths in hospitals by broad category. It is subdivided into two parts relating to (A) active treatment and convalescent hospitals, and (B) hospitals for chronic care.

In Part A, Diseases of the Circulatory System rank highest with 9,406 deaths or 33.2 percent of all deaths. Within this broad category, arteriosclerotic and degenerative heart disease accounted for 6,826 or 72.6 percent of the Circulatory System deaths. Neoplasms were the second leading cause with 7,467 deaths or 26.4 percent of all deaths and of these, 7,325 or 98.1 percent were malignant. Together, arteriosclerotic and degenerative heart disease and malignant neoplasms account for 50.0 percent of all deaths occurring in active and convalescent hospitals.

In Part B, Diseases of the Nervous System and Sense Organs were the principal cause of death among chronically-ill patients. This group of diseases accounted for 1,332 deaths or 30.1 percent of all deaths, 1,027 of which were caused by vascular lesions affecting the central nervous system. As in Part A, Neoplasms constituted the second leading cause of death in chronic hospitals, involving a total of 1,203 patients of which 1,180 or 98.1 percent of the neoplasm deaths were the result of malignant conditions.

Special Services Provided by Hospitals

Laboratory (See Table 4)

1968 was the last year hospitals based their unit evaluation of laboratory procedures on the 1960 edition of the Schedule of Unit Values for Clinical Laboratory Procedures which was published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. A new schedule has been published and became effective January 1, 1969. According to the schedule used in 1968 and prior years, one unit represented 10 minutes of time, 7 minutes of which were allotted to technical procedures and the remaining 3 minutes to stenographic services, glass washing and other non-technical services performed in the laboratory.

Table G, below, shows that the volume of laboratory services in all public hospitals increased by 22.0 percent in 1968 over 1967 resulting in a grand total of 82,477,192 units of work being performed in hospitals to maintain a trend indicating greater use of laboratory services each year. Although most of this work was performed on behalf of in-patients there was a substantial increase of 2,570,439 units of work performed on behalf of out-patients of public general hospitals during 1968. Units of work performed per in-patient and per in-patient day continued to increase in all public hospitals. Particular attention is directed towards the large percentage increases in public convalescent and chronic hospitals.

Radiology (See Tables 5 and 6)

An increase of 10.1 percent in diagnostic radiological examinations in public general hospitals in 1968 was 0.1 percent lower than the increase in 1967 when the highest percentage increase since 1962 occurred. It can also be seen in Table H below that other radiographic examinations continue to show a greater increase for out-patients than for in-patients while routine chest examinations show a decrease for out-patients for the first time since 1965.

During 1968 the Ontario Cancer Treatment and Research Foundation continued to operate and staff the Princess Margaret Hospital and seven clinics attached to public general hospitals in regional centres of the Province. Table 6 on page 50 shows that the 35 hospitals providing therapeutic radiology in 1968 gave an average number of 9.0 treatments per patient, an increase of 0.5 treatments from the previous year. The total number receiving therapy in 1968 decreased by 401 to 16,879 patients while the total number of treatments increased by 5,572 to 151,737 treatments.

Staffing of Hospitals and Nursing Homes Temporarily Approved for Chronic Care (See Tables 7, 11, 12 and 13)

The percentage increase or decrease in rated or approved beds is shown in Table J. Also shown is the number of full-time and part-time employees on staff December 31 in public, private and Federal hospitals as well as in nursing homes temporarily approved for chronic care. Active treatment hospital beds in public hospitals increased by 3.6 percent in 1968, the same rate as in 1967. The 16.2 percent decrease (108 beds) in nursing homes temporarily approved for chronic care was more than offset by an increase of 427 beds (6.9 percent) in chronic beds in all public hospitals, as shown by the data in Table 1.

In 1968 there were 6.4 percent more part-time employees than in 1967, with an increase of 4.5 percent in full-time employees during the same period. The increases in both full-time and part-time staff of public psychiatric hospitals would seem to reflect the increasing utilization of these facilities as revealed in Table B, Part I.

Formal Training Programmes in Public Hospitals (See Table 8)

Detailed data on training programmes in the major paramedical groups given in those hospitals approved under the Plan are shown in Table 8. These data are condensed and shown in Table K below.

There was a further decrease in 1968 of nursing students enrolled in hospital schools of nursing with 7,343 enrolled at December 31, 1968 compared to 7,739 at the end of 1967. This was more than offset, however, by an increase in enrollment in special schools of nursing where 1,951 were enrolled at the end of 1968 compared to 860 at the end of 1967. These special schools of nursing graduated 26.1 percent more nurses in 1968 than in the previous year.

Each of the other paramedical professions shows an increase in enrollment in 1968 but a slight decrease in graduates is noted for radiological technicians and laboratory technologists.

INDICATOR TABLES

This year, a new section has been added to the Statistical Supplement to assist in assessing the performance of individual hospitals in relation to their peer group. It is hoped that these indicators will be of use to administrators and others. Use of the tables can help to highlight the performance of an individual hospital by providing a suitable base for comparison.

The measures of dispersion, (i.e., range, lower quartile, median, and upper quartile) illustrate the values recorded for hospitals at the respective points within the distribution for that hospital group. For example, using the indicator table for bed occupancy, and having regard to a hospital with 1-49 active beds it can be seen that the lower quartile value was 65.3 percent. Thus, a hospital having a lower occupancy rate than 65.3 percent would know that at least 75 percent of the hospitals in the same bed size group had a higher occupancy rate; conversely, it would realize that it was in the lowest 25 percent of the distribution for this indicator. Again, a hospital having an occupancy rate of more than 91.2 percent would realize that it was above the upper quartile value of 91.2 percent and therefore was in the top 25 percent for this indicator. The median value of 81.8 percent indicates the mid-point value as a further point of reference.

Indicators have been provided for only selected aspects of hospital performance. These are, bed occupancy rates (both rated and set-up); turnover interval; average length of stay; laboratory units of work; radiographic examinations; and paid hours of work per diem.

The indicators have been designed to provide a basis for comparison between hospitals of a similar size. They can do no more than this. They cannot provide the reasons for — let us say — low occupancy which can be determined only by those with a full knowledge of conditions at the hospital concerned.

*—Turnover interval measures the average length of time that a bed remains empty. For fuller comments see page ix of the text.

§—Turnover interval cannot be calculated with any degree of accuracy, because of apparent fluctuations in number of set-up beds.

(1) Includes isolation beds and beds used by patients requiring long-term care in hospitals that do not have officially recognized convalescent or chronic units. Also included are beds in specific areas set aside for medical and surgical specialties such as orthopaedics, cardiology, neuro-surgery, urology, gynaecology, ophthalmology and intensive care, as well as detention beds in hospitals which do not have officially recognized psychiatric units.

(2) In many smaller hospitals, principally those under 75 beds, "paediatric" beds are drawn from the medical-surgical service as required; consequently, the patient-day figures shown on Table 3 are more indicative of the utilization in this area, than the bed figures reported by the hospitals. For the Red Cross Outpost, or Group D hospitals, the same comment also applies to obstetrical beds.

(3) For individual hospitals, percentage occupancies based on rated beds were calculated on the number of rated beds available throughout the year, and not on the final bed capacity shown. Thus any hospital reporting a change in their rated bed capacity had its occupancy calculated on the number of rated beds before and after the increase(s) or decrease(s). See footnote 15 for those hospitals which had significant changes in the number of rated beds. In calculating percentage occupancies for all groups of hospitals, the total rated beds as at December 31, 1968 were used.

(4) All percentages in these columns were based on the number of beds as of December 31, 1968. See Table 2.

(5) The Hamilton Civic Hospitals is a single corporation composed of two hospitals which have been listed separately. To obtain a complete picture of the total operation, the two need to be combined.

(6) London, Victoria Hospital includes patients temporarily accommodated in Central Park Lodge during hospital construction programme.

(7) Willowdale, North York General Hospital—opened May 1, 1968.

(8) Toronto, The Hospital for Sick Children—834 Paediatric Beds are distributed into 721 medical-surgical, 107 isolation and 6 intensive care.

(9) Scarborough, Scarborough General Hospital includes patients temporarily accommodated in Altamont Nursing Home during hospital construction programme.

(10) Mississauga, South Peel Hospital formerly known as Cooksville, South Peel Hospital.

(11) Brampton, Peel Memorial Hospital includes patients temporarily accommodated in Tullamore Nursing Home during hospital construction programme.

(12) Kenora, Kenora General Hospital and St. Joseph's Hospital combined to form Lake of the Woods District Hospital from May 1, 1968.

(13) London, London Health Association (Rheumatic and Arthritis Disease Unit) opened June 6, 1968, temporarily located at Westminster Hospital, London, until University Hospital, London, completed.

(14) Kingston, Osgoode Sanatorium (Chronic Patients Unit) opened April 1, 1968.

(15) Those hospitals that had significant increases or decreases in the number of rated beds during the calendar year ending December 31, 1968 are listed below:

(1) For the smaller hospitals, principally those under 75 beds, the patient day figures shown for the "paediatric service" are more indicative of the utilization in this area, than the bed figures reported by the hospital, which are shown in Table 1, since these hospitals usually draw their "paediatric" beds from the medical-surgical services as required. The same comment also applies to the obstetrical days shown for Red Cross Outpost (or Group D) hospitals.

(2) The Hamilton Civic Hospitals is a single corporation composed of two hospitals which have been listed separately. To obtain a complete picture of the total operation, the two need to be combined.

S—Denotes School of Nursing.

T—Denotes Training Centre for Nursing Assistants.

+ — Hospital has a convalescent unit, see footnote 3 below. Details about size of unit, its patient load and days of care will be found in Tables 1 to 3. Tables 4 and 5 provide indicators of laboratory and radiology workloads, based on active treatment patients and days only.

Δ — Hospital has a chronic unit, see footnote 3 below. Details about size of unit, its patient load and days of care will be found in Tables 1 to 3. Tables 4 and 5 provide indicators of laboratory and radiology workloads, based on active treatment patients and days only.

(1) Paid hours of work per diem are based on total hours of persons employed in active, convalescent and chronic units and corresponding total adult and child days plus 1/4 newborn days.

(2) Nursing services are reported in total because of a lack of detailed uniform information about individual nursing units.

(3) Per diems for hospitals with convalescent and/or chronic units are somewhat understated due to inclusion of convalescent and chronic days in divisor, although amount of laboratory and radiology service given to these classes of patients is relatively negligible.

(4) Other special and supplementary services include services such as pharmacy, physiotherapy, occupational therapy, medical records, social service, psychiatry, orthopaedic and dental, also the allowable portion of ambulance service, organized out-patient services and Mental Health which became effective July 1, 1968.

(5) Paid hours of work relating to non-allowable operating costs include special research projects, non-allowable portion of ambulance service, organized out-patient services, ancillary operations and other special departments.

(6) The Hamilton Civic Hospitals is a single corporation composed of two hospitals which have been listed separately. To obtain a complete picture of the total operation, the two need to be combined.

(7) The hospital laboratory and provincial laboratory for the area operate as one, but for comparative purposes with other hospitals hours of work attributable to hospital patients only have been included, except Sarnia General Hospital where these hours of work could not be separated out.

(8) This hospital had an increase or decrease in its rated bed capacity of 10 or more beds during the calendar year ending December 31, 1968. Details regarding the nature of the change appear in footnote 15 to Table 1.

(1) Unless otherwise noted, rated bed capacity refers to active, convalescent and/or chronic beds. Not shown are beds in Department of Veterans Affairs hospitals assigned to accommodate committed mental patients and domiciliary patients.

(2) Generally, percentage occupancies are based on rated active and chronic beds as of December 31, 1968, but in the case of Ottawa, Rideau Veterans Home, domiciliary beds have been included, and with Moose Factory General Hospital, tuberculosis beds have been included, as statistics relating to corresponding days of care could not be segregated.

(3) Total days stay since admission for discharges and deaths.

(4) Rated bed capacity decreased to 615 in 1968, due to 20 beds on loan to London Health Association (Rheumatic and Arthritic Disease Unit) until University Hospital, London, completed.

(5) Moose Factory General Hospital — beds for tuberculosis patients not shown in rated bed capacity, statistics however include figures relating to tuberculosis care.

(6) Ohswéken, Lady Willingdon Hospital closed October 1, 1968.

(7) Ottawa, Rideau Veterans Home — statistics include figures relating to domiciliary care.

(8) All personnel figures include those persons employed in the long-term mental, domiciliary and tuberculosis units.

HOW TO USE THE INDEX

The following index has been designed to help the user of this Supplement find information about individual public hospitals quickly and easily. The stub of the index, lists the public hospitals alphabetically in order of location, while the columnar headings identify the number and contents of each table where specific information about a particular hospital can be found. The numbers appearing in the body of the table (with the exception of the first two columns) indicate the pages within the Supplement on which information about the public hospitals mentioned can be found.

The quickest way to find a particular item of information about a specific hospital is to look first in the index for its location, name and bed size, and then for the table description and Supplement page number. Turn to the appropriate page number within the Supplement and look down the rated bed column, which is arranged in descending order by size, until you spot the number of beds (and the hospital) you wish to find. The relevant information you wish to have will be contained on the same row.

NOTE: Readers of this Supplement are cautioned that valid comparisons can only be made with a thorough knowledge of the various number and types of administrative and other practices occurring within individual hospitals which are reflected in the data presented herein. Operating costs vary widely from hospital to hospital and are dependent upon a number of factors such as composition and layout of plant facilities, number and qualifications of staff, types of treatment given, percentage of beds occupied, the operation of a School of Nursing or other training programmes and the volume of out-patient services offered.
